MEDICINAL. STARVED OUT.

Many a garrison has been forced to give up the fight and hang out the white flag of surrender, when lack of food has weakened the men past all power to continue the struggle.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores strength to weak, nervous, run-down men and women.

"About ten years ago I began to be afflicted with stomach trouble, also diarrhea," writes Mr. Wm. Walters, of Antism, Mo. "In warm weather it grew worse, until it would throw me into a cramping chill. I sometimes thought my end had come. Tried many remedies, but they gave only temporary relief. In November, 1892, though I would try Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I got six bottles and took five in succession, then thought I would wait for a time and take the one left. Soon found I had symptoms of the trouble coming back, so took the sixth bottle and it cured me. I have enjoyed the best of health this summer, and the credit all belongs to your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I can't express my many thanks to Dr. Pierce for his remedy, for it did so much for me. Words cannot express how severely I suffered."

"If any doubt the above statement let them address me, and I will take great pleasure in answering."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

WEALTHY FAMILIES MOURN.

One remarkable feature of the disaster at the Iroquois Theatre in Chicago is the fact that nearly all the victims were Americans and belonged to the wealthier class. The playhouse was distinctly a center for the best patronage and the blow falls especially heavy upon Chicago for the reason that members of many prominent families have been lost. William H. Hoyt, the millionaire wholesale grocer, lost his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Fox, and her three children, Hoyt, Sidney and Emily. Perishing with them was their nurse.

Mr. Hoyt searched the morgues all of the night and has found the body of one of the children. He is positive the others are among the unidentified dead.

Adolph Gartz, son-in-law of R. T. Crane, also a millionaire, lost two of his children—Mary, aged 13, and Barbara, aged 5. The children were accompanied by an aunt and two maids, and were seated well down in front. In the turmoil they were dragged from their seats and trampled to death.

Three generations are missing from one of the oldest of Chicago families—that of Benjamin Moore. The dead in this family include Benjamin Moore, aged 70, and his wife, aged 60; Mrs. Matthew Moore, aged 32; Lucille Bond, aged 9; Roland McKay, aged 5, grandchildren, and Mrs. Joseph Bezek, a daughter.

A party consisting of Mrs. Lucy Gann, her two children (Frank, 10 years old, and Willie, 6 years old); Harriet Wolfe, 10 years old, daughter of Ludwick Wolfe, a millionaire business man, and Miss Burke, a dressmaker, are dead.

Mr. Wolfe's entire family searched all night through the hospitals and morgues, but failed to find a trace of any member of the party.

The entire family of C. G. Meeker, also prominent in Chicago life—father, mother and four children—were wiped out in the fire.

Alexander H. Revell, prominent on the World's Fair Board and in republican circles, spent a night of terrible anxiety before he learned that his little daughter, Margaret, had escaped from the fire with her clothing in tatters, and was picked up wandering in the cold streets.

In the boxes were many parties of girls home from the eastern colleges for the holidays. So far as can be learned, all of them have been accounted for although they report many thrilling escapes. As guests they had the daughters of many prominent eastern families, all of whom have been tumbled by the horrible scenes they witnessed, and many of whom will curial their visit and hasten East with a memory that never will be forgotten.

Because of the fearful blight that has fallen upon Chicago, all events of a social nature have been abandoned. All the theaters and public places will be closed today and many big social functions arranged for the holiday week end have been called off. The city is just awakening to the appalling disaster which has come to it. The streets are filled with haggard wild-eyed men and women seeking for relatives and dreading the finding of them. There will be no open houses in Chicago. Crepe upon hundreds of doors forbid the punch-bowl in the reception rooms.

Sorrow reigned in the residence of Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, the noted divine. William McLaughlin, 19 years of age, a nephew of Mrs. Gunsaulus, was one of those severely burned. He was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital, where the attending physicians entertained no hope for his recovery. Mr. McLaughlin's home is in Buenos Ayres. He is a member of the sophomore class of the Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware, O., and was spending his holiday vacation at the Gunsaulus home. He was to have witnessed the marriage of Miss Martha Gunsaulus to Henry Hamilton Shuler, which took place at the Prairie avenue residence yesterday evening. Owing to his condition all invitations to the ceremony were recalled, and only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present.

To PREVENT SNORING—Perhaps the most unique invention patented during the past year is one by S. A. Moulton, of Campbell, Cal. It is a device to prevent snoring, and the two salient features of the invention, the patentee asserts, are its cheapness of construction and its effectiveness. The patent office has just issued him letters patent on it. The specifications of the inventor are explicit enough as to the invention, but he does not say a word as to how any one is to be convinced that he snores loud enough to justify the use of the "anti-snores." And he does not say how it could be presented to a snorer, so unfortunate as to be without it, on a Pullman sleeper or in the small hotel room, without the snorer taking umbrage. Perhaps if he were more explicit on that point his invention might be more of a success.

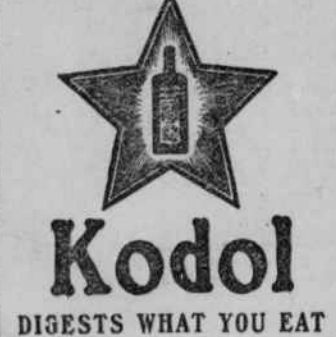

The invention consists of a small piece of hard, flat rubber with a small, elliptical hole in the middle. Over this orifice is placed a small flap which permits the exhalation of breath through the mouth, but makes the snorer take in the air through his nose. The affair fits in the mouth after the matter of the little whistles made of two small round pieces of tin with a hole in the centre, which need to be so common. How to keep it there while the snorer is asleep is another point not covered by the inventor.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids to the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price, including the spraying tube, is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.
